Hello

And welcome to the very first digital and interactive version of the EDC Wholesale catalog. We are pleased to introduce you to the fifth edition. Would you like to find out which house brand will be your next most popular, unique, and top-selling collection? Meet all the brands and let the EDC Wholesale team help you make the best selection for your business. With different backgrounds and different language skills, we are ONE team with one goal: offering the best tools to get you quickly back to more important things: your business.

The pandemic really changed the business landscape. Current times require us to help our customers navigate new business challenges. We need to adapt and respond in ways to come up with creative solutions and seek opportunities. This calls for more flexibility for us as a wholesale partner. That means when we can't travel abroad; we do everything in our power to connect with our customers, both online and offline. But we sure feel lucky when we can meet you at tradeshow or your headquarters.

The launch of our new platform ONE-DC.com was a tremendous highlight of 2021, with this step we could supply many tools to make your life much easier and give you the best shopping experience. This year we will continue to improve your experience on our platform, offer you the latest innovative products, and anticipate an uncertain transport market with higher stock levels. No matter what this year will bring us, we will keep providing and maintaining the tools and resources to boost your sales.

Let's do this together!

Best wishes,

Team Sales

A minimalistic and clear layout that highlights new trends and top-selling brands. With a powerful search tool and well-structured menu. These last few months we've implemented some updates and there are still some to come. We are happy to share the most recent upgrades we've implemented, so you can get the most out of your time on our platform.
